Dear Truth-O-Meter,

Your May 4, 2022 fact-check of the "2000 Mules" trailer contains a false statement in need of correction.

The false statement occurs in the story's second subheading and finds no support in the fact check: "The allegations in the trailer stem from cell phone footage."

No. The allegations in the trailer stem from cell phone location data and surveillance video footage. That's made clear enough in the body of the story, contradicting the subheader.

Please act to correct the mistake in accord with PolitiFact's stated commitment to open and honest corrections.
